Around the Square

Even with a slow start you can look out for a sleeper at Council meetings—witness Tuesday night's double whammy just as the audience began to despair.

As Betty Conzelman walked out the Chamber doors with her eastern guest, we heard her say proudly, "See! I told you it would come to something."

"Something," Mrs. C. could be an understatement.

Since we only sit on the side of the paper and watch, we would like to point out that besides orphaned ordinances last Tuesday night, we also had the sartorial splendor of Charles Stephens who wore a pair of yaller socks and, so help us—blue shoes.

Memo to the Police Dept.: You might as well get those extra chairs out before the Council meets because sure as shooting, you are going to have to tiddle-toe back and forth with set-ups for the usual oversize crowd.

And two chairs for Mr. Bonebrake, please.

While running to a fire last week, we met a small boy coming away from it. He shook his head, "S'no good! They put it out."

Is there anybody in town who has NOT warned Lorne Pratt that people living in glass houses shouldn't?

Civic Clubbers not only pledged $5 each to their proposed Toy Loan building, but agreed that those monies should be earned.

Thus we have Bonnie Hoover (president) teaching ballet to Marlborough Terrace moppets while Marge Rizzo (1st vice) plays the accompaniment. And we have the engaging picture of Gay Bettencourt baby-sitting, Ann Tyler cake baking and Toy Stodart teaching what's trumps to her rusty colleagues.

After a turn in the City Park it is also obvious that club members are raising the roof.

The w... has been so perfect for this time of year that we are afraid to mention it. The nights have been blessedly c-l and the days just comfortably w-m. True California c..... But we wish it would r-n.

We have taken to our bosom (and, lacking a few inches that's about where he elects to sit) an Alredale puppy raised by Dorothy and Dixie Tiller over on West Highland.

Concerning the Tillers, who raised six of these puppies, we would like to say that their constitutions must have been framed with more ironwork than ours. Definitely we are commencing to sag as we trail, mop in hand, from oasis to oasis.

Alredales, even at three months, are composed mainly of feet which they try to put in bed with you. A portion of them is given over to teeth like a baby shark's. And while they gnaw on your wrist you can get a good look at their lovely brown eyes.

If HE is like that at three months—what shall WE be like at six?

Have you read about the 10-foot cracks opening up in the earth in the Coachella Valley?

As an old timer in those parts, we are of the opinion that that what with two consecutive date crop failures and the resultant weight of the mortgages—something was bound to give.

Horseshoe Team Invited For Weekend

The Sierra Madre Horseshoe Club has been invited to play the Atascadero Club in a weekend tournament at Atascadero. Two former Sierra Madrans whose homes are at Atascadero arranged the program which includes plenty of horseshoes, a trip to Morrow Bay, fish fry and a good time for the eight contestants making the trip.

Tom Durning and A. C. McCarty will be the hosts to the visiting team. Fred Anderson, Joe Hedges, Claude Karns, Robert Smith, Harvey Herring, John Chambers, Carl Martin and Newton Clark. The gentlemen plan to make the 250-mile trip by auto.

John Fergus Attends Civil Air Patrol Camp at Mather Field

John Fergus, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fergus of West Sierra Madre Blvd., will be home Saturday from a two-week training camp at Mather Field. John is a corporal in the Civil Air Patrol.

He made the trip up in a C-47 Army Transport. During the trip each cadet was allowed time in the cockpit with the pilot.

John has written his parents that there are more than 100 cadets from California, Arizona and Nevada taking the training. The weather has been extremely hot.

On Vacation

Carl Lenk, composing room foreman at the Sierra Madre News and well known in the California newspaper and printing industry and Mrs. Lenk are vacationing in Montana. The Lenks were former residents of that area.

Indeed, Not The Lady of Sierra Madre

Mrs. Lillian Young Clark of 261 Adams Avenue has been the subject of much embarrassment and annoyance this week-end by phone calls from friends following the publication Saturday of the names of 17 county employees asking for a hearing following their discharge on the failure of signing the loyalty oath.

Mrs. Clark is known among her friends as Lillian Young but in the county office where she has served as a social worker for many years she uses her legal name of Lillian Young Clark. Inasmuch as the list included a Lillian Young, most phone calls started in by, "Lillian, we know this couldn't be you, but what does it mean, how did it happen?"

Demands for reinstatement were contained in the letters from individuals ousted from the county service on charges of insubordination on order of the Board of Supervisors.

The Civil Service Commission announced a hearing for Tuesday. The discharged workers refused to sign affidavits disavowing Communist Party membership and other organizations branded as subversive by the State Legislature's Un-American Activities Committee.

Cited for Long Service
Last Friday our Mrs. Lillian Young Clark was among a favored group cited for work in the County's Social service. Appropriate badges were presented individually to the workers, Mrs. Clark's citation being for more than 20 years of service to Los Angeles County.

MEN RUSHED TO BLAZE AT GLENDDORA

The red truck racing through town Monday noon with its siren screaming and loaded with men, was destined for a brush fire in South Glendora. County Forestry Department officials said the men, dispatched from Eaton Canyon, were working on a fire break in the Hastings Ranch area when the call came.

HUNDREDS ATTEND S. M. PLAY DAY

"Play Day" held at the City Park Saturday morning was enthusiastically attended by over 175 young people, according to Recreation Commission officials, sponsors of the event.

A large majority of those present for the morning frolic, took advantage of free swimming at the canyon pool offered in the afternoon.

Both individual and group prizes were given participants in the various games. Judges and chaperones were Commission members: Sam McElfresh, Mrs. J. Stadden Miller, Louis Sauter and Harold Drury.

Boys producing the biggest bubbles in the bubble gum contest were: Billy Moore, first; Larry Borneman, second; Robert Sheehy, third, and Dale Stopp, fourth. Girl winners were Marian Strong, first and Catherine Conzelman, second.

Pie eating contest winners (judged on speed, not quantity) from the boys' section were: Pat Canady, first; Robert Seehy, second, and Larry Borneman, third. Girls: Ann Ifrig was first with Suzy Griffin and Marilyn Ifrig tying for second place.

Contestants pitting lung power against balloons and succeeding in making them pop first, were: Peter Garcia, first; William Davalos, second; Richard Lees, third, and Tommy Stoffel, fourth, of the boys. Girls: Elise Parker, first; Sarah Carver, second and Joan Denning, third.

Prizes in the marshmallow contest were awarded Bruce Rondeau and Peter Garcia, first and second from the boy entrants. Ann Ifrig was first and Marjorie Thomas placed second for the girls.

Near Serious Shooting of Betty Lukas

The familiar case of children and loaded guns, this time a pellet gun, could have proven fatal for seven-year-old Betty Jean Lukas, accidentally shot in the left chest by her brother, Raymond, nine, while at play Friday afternoon.

Betty Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukas, is now successfully recovering at her home, 674 East Sierra Madre Blvd.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Lukas are as yet unable to determine just what occurred, it is assumed the children found the gun hidden behind a chest in the parents' bedroom. Mrs. Lukas, had stepped out for a few minutes at the time of the accident.

The oldest daughter, Marlene, 11 years, called her mother immediately when she realized what had happened and the injured child was rushed to the office of Dr. George W. Groth, Jr. Dr. Groth extracted the pellet which had lodged in a left rib, dangerously near to Betty Jean's heart.

"Sleeper" Set-back Law Juggled By City Council As Eaton Demands Hearings

Monrovia Ground Breaking for New $72,000 Phone Bldg.

Monrovia is to have a new telephone building. Last Wednesday, Mayor Ruel R. Brown turned the first shovel of dirt for the new $72,000 building to be erected by the California Water and Telephone Company.

Cost of equipment to be housed in the structure will be in excess of $500,000, according to MacGougan, district manager. The new equipment will provide for ultimate subscriber dialing to any exchange in the Los Angeles Metropolitan area.

Gen. Agrees On New Site For Armory

The National Guard armory probably will be built on city-owned property adjacent to the Water Department's settling basin east of the Youth Hut on E. Sierra Madre Blvd. Final arrangements have not been completed, but Councilman Herman Barter told the City Council Tuesday night that the National Guard authorities had tentatively accepted the site as a substitute for the disputed park site.

Councilman Barter conferred with Major Gen. Huelston Friday in San Luis Obispo, where the National Guard is holding an encampment. He said Gen. Huelston assured him the city's wishes would be respected, that Lt. Col. Paul C. Byrne would inspect the settling basin site next week. If the site is satisfactory to Byrne and to Capt. Sanford Ullman, head of the Sierra Madre guard unit, it will be given final approval. The lease conveyed by the city will specify reversion of the property if an armory is not built within five years.

If land evaluation figures for Sierra Madre are received from the county soon enough, the Council will hold an extra session next Tuesday night to set the city tax rate and consider the budget.

Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Hayes, 107 Lowell, are parents of a son born Monday morning at St. Luke Hospital.

SIERRA MADRE'S WHO'S WHO

Five Sierra Madrans appear in the 1948-49 edition of "Who's Who In America," recently printed: Norman Chandler, Col. Henry B. Hersey, Lee Shippey, William Ralph Smythe and Dr. Bernhard Wall.

The average is high, considering there were only five from Monrovia, a population of 19,000 and six from Arcadia with a population of 18,331. The recent census shows Sierra Madre's population at 6669.

Owner-publisher of the Los Angeles Times, Norman Chandler, 800 West Orange Grove, is also director of the Associated Press. He is on the board of National Bureau of Advertising, a trustee at Caltech and USC, and a director of the Santa Fe Railroad. Mr. Chandler was born in Los Angeles and at-

Barter Guest Of National Guard Staff

Comdr. Herman Barter, councilman, represented the city of Sierra Madre Friday and Saturday at the State National Guard in training at San Luis Obispo. Maj. Gen. D. H. Huelston in command of the encampment was a host for the week end to representatives of the cities having units in camp.

This session of training was for the cities south of Bakersfield, the northern part of the state having used the camp the previous two weeks. Gov. Earl Warren was among the visiting dignitaries for the exhibition of firing Saturday afternoon.

Comdr. Barter reported that the state officers were proud and happy over the new equipment provided this year for the state camp. Comdr. Barter spent Friday in conference with Gen. Huelston, Assistant Chief of Staff Col. Aulick and the Regimental Commander discussing the proposed National Guard Armory site in Sierra Madre.

Arthur Morse Will Head Kiwanis Club

A unanimous vote signaled out Arthur Morse for the new Kiwanis presidency to succeed Sam McElfresh. The choice was made during an eight-member meeting of the Kiwanis Board of Directors Thursday evening, at the home of Bob Green in Arcadia.

Sam McElfresh will resign as president September 10. He stated that since entering another school system, he is unable to give the executive office the necessary time.

Bill Bodley will replace Mr. Morse as treasurer. The resignation of Dr. Lee Evans from the Board was regretfully accepted. Dr. Evans will remain active in the club, but feels it impossible to devote the attention required of a board member.

Board of Directors nominating committee for the ensuing year was appointed by President McElfresh. Chairman is Frank Spencer assisted by Jim Spencer and Charlie Klunk.

Zoning "Hot Potato" Makes Faces Red, Fingers Burn

Dr. Hurt has been groomed for the presidency of the National Association for some time. The past year has taken much of his time since being elected to the high office at the Cincinnati, Ohio, convention in 1947.

On return from San Francisco Dr. Hurt will go immediately to Washington, D. C., for extended conferences and planning. He has been the Los Angeles County Livestock Inspector for more than 30 years.

First Band Rehearsal Announced

Due to the many who will be absent during the next month on vacations the first meeting of the Sierra Madre Band will be postponed until September 14, according to Al Morgan, band committee chairman. At that time a full attendance at every rehearsal is expected and from the outstanding talent already available Sierra Madre should soon have a top flight organization.

The director, Stewart Matter, states that this talent runs the gamut from that idol of the PCC campus, tuba-playing Dirk Cable, to such of the town's most dignified gentlemen as Rudy Hartman, Sr., whose ability on the floric stick is legend and Herbert Ingraham of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, who favors gaily about on the bassoon. Even Jim Heasley and Gordon McMillan will contribute their talents. Any musician who has not yet registered is asked to contact Mrs. Goodwin at the Chamber of Commerce or Mr. Matter at his home.

BUSINESSMEN SUBJECT OF C. OF C. POLL

A business men's luncheon may be the means whereby topics concerning ways and means of improving business in Sierra Madre may be discussed and important questions satisfactorily answered.

Many questions came up for discussion at the regular Monday night meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. Trade in Sierra Madre topped the list and promises to rally lively discussion in any group of business men.

Remaining open Friday nights may be an even livelier subject. Whether or not it would be an advantage to the business men of Sierra Madre certainly would be up to them to decide.

The possibility of bus service between Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Monrovia was a Chamber consideration.

A fourth question had to do with an interestingly written bi-monthly letter to shoppers in Sierra Madre.

Four important questions, none of which may be satisfactorily answered without consideration of the heads of business, seem to make it imperative for a get-together soon around the luncheon table.

Self Help Laundry for Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre now has a self-service laundry. At 51 E. Montecito, convenient to the shopping district, Mr. and Mrs. James Kellerher have opened for business with eight automatic washing machines. They expect to add additional machines later if the demand warrants.

Kellerher, a World War II veteran and a mail carrier for the Sierra Madre Post Office, attended both public and parochial schools here. Mrs. Kellerher, the former Kathleen Johnson, also grew up in Sierra Madre.

ning Commission decision (appeal was denied), leaped up to ask whether the Planning Commission had met "as required" before the ordinance was drafted. He charged that presentation of the amended ordinance was "directly connected" with the Council's rejection of Gilbert's appeal. He demanded to know from Reynolds who instructed him to draw up the ordinance.

Takes Orders from the Council
Reynolds said he took his orders from the Council, that he was accountable to no one else. He refused to state specifically whether the Council, as a group or separately, had given

25 Years in Banking Service

Ivan E. Hart was honored recently on fulfilling 25 years of service with the Alhambra Bank of America. The bank board of directors presented him with a diamond-studded pin, the organization's Quarter-Century Club emblem, following a luncheon at the Jonathan Club, Los Angeles.

Since joining the Alhambra branch in 1941, he has been vice-chairman of the Alhambra War Finance Committee, since 1943, has served as director of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce for four years, and was recently elected president of the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Hart, a native of Nebraska, began a banking career in 1915 and was at one time on the staff of the Long Beach Bank of America.

His civic activities include associate memberships of the Alhambra District Realty Board and the San Gabriel Valley Contractors' Association. He now heads the professional division of the 1948 American Red Cross campaign in Alhambra.

Mr. Hart and wife, 126 Lowell, returned last week from a four months' vacation in Yellowstone and the middle West.

Old Age Aid Shows Yearly Increase

In Los Angeles County aid was paid to 84,516 needy aged people during June, 1948, compared with 78,778 during July, 1947, the first month of the 1947-48 fiscal year, California Taxpayers' Association said today.

Aid to the aged in the county totalled $4,849,551 during June, 1948, an average of $57.38 per person.

For July, 1947, aid to over 65's in the county amounted to $4,176,762, an average payment of $53.02 per person.

Throughout the state during June, 1948, aid was paid to 188,267 aged persons, compared with 173,605 during July, 1947.

Aid for June, 1948, to the needy aged totalled $10,748,706, an average of $57.09 per person. For July, 1947, aid to the needy aged in California amounted to $9,132,775, an average of $52.61 per person.

Pointing to the growing numbers of persons receiving aid and to the increased amounts of aid paid in California, both total and per person, voters are urged to find out about the provisions of the two propositions on the November general election ballot which relate to aid to the aged—Propositions No. 4 and No. 11.

Such proposals as these would increase costs of aid to the aged by hundreds of millions of dollars.

TOURIST MONEY BUYSMORE ACROSS THE BORDER

Commenting today on the advantage of the devaluation of the peso to the American visitor in Tijuana, Juan Alessio, president of the Tijuana Chamber of Commerce, said "the buying power of the American tourist dollar has been increased by 20 per cent. The new rate of exchange is approximately 20 per cent greater than the old rate, or 6.50 pesos to the dollar."

Women Play Big Roles in the Bible As in Life Today

THE 20th century, in spite of two world wars, has seen much advancement in what we commonly call "the emancipation of women." Not only in the most progressive democracies, but even in backward countries, women have become voters and have now an active part in almost every phase of public life.

But when one looks over the vast field of history an amazing thing is the discovery of the way in which, even in times and places in which the position of women was inferior to that of men, women have occupied positions of great power and dominance. Sometimes good, sometimes bad, sometimes in characters and actions strangely blended of both good and evil. Women have been powerful as queens and warriors, as saints luring men to destruction, and as ambitious wives and mothers.

One thinks of queens, like Cleopatra, Catherine of Russia, and Elizabeth of England; of warriors, ambitious women, like the mother of George III, whose admonition to her son, "George be king," had like Boadicea and Joan of Arc, of something to do with the revolt of the American colonies.

Now, in the Bible, all these phases of women in outstanding character and action are fully represented. There is the great judge-warrior, Deborah (Judges 5); the good and pure Hannah, mother of Samuel (Samuel 1); the beautiful Bathsheba, mother of Solomon, but lured and luring in the adulterous commerce with David (II Samuel 11); and there is the vicious Jezebel (I Kings 18-21), whose name has become a byword for vengeance and evil. All these, and many more, are there in the pages of the Old Testament.

But a whole book of the Old Testament, the Book of Ruth, is devoted to the story of two women, Ruth and her mother-in-law Naomi. Their character shines with undiminished beauty, as types of noble womanhood, as true for our time as for that ancient day in which they lived, suffered and triumphed.

on him any orders in this instance.

Eaton then turned on the Council with support from Mrs. Robert Wright, a member of the Planning Commission, tried to pin the members down as to where the proposed ordinance originated.

Council Refuses Answer

Councilman Herman Barter, who represents the Council on the Planning Commission, said he understood the Commission at its last meeting had asked the Council for clarification of the set-back ordinance. Eaton replied that there was nothing vague about Ordinance 394 and recalled that a committee appointed by the Commission had unanimously endorsed the ordinance as written and called for its enforcement.

Mrs. Wright wanted to know where the 35 feet specified as the R1 set-back came from. "Can't we have an answer?" she pleaded. When there was no direct response, she said: "In other words, the Council refuses to answer?"

Replied Mayor Steinberger, obviously not happy about the turn of events: "Some member of the Planning Commission must have requested it. I don't know."

Eaton returned to the attack. Said he, "It is undemocratic procedure when our own representatives won't answer our questions. (Applause from the audience.)—Which one of you five men requested Mr. Reynolds to draft this ordinance?—Somebody apparently is not telling the truth."

Questioning brought out that no written request for ordinance change had been received from the Planning Commission, and that minutes of the group's July meeting had not yet been filed with the City Clerk.

(Commission Secretary Webster Vannier told the NEWS Wednesday morning that his minutes were still in note form but declared that a motion made by Bayard Bigelow and seconded by Vannier had instructed the City Attorney, working through the Council, to "draft a new set-back ordinance based on a study of neighboring towns."

Vannier denied that, as intimated by Eaton, he had taken any individual action in the matter. He said he hadn't seen the new ordinance and had no idea where the specified set-back dimensions originated.)

The Council eventually set aside the first reading of the ordinance and sent the problem back to the Planning Commission.

(At press time, City Attorney Reynolds could not be reached for interrogation as to whether he did make a study of neighboring towns, as provided in the Commission's resolution, before drafting the

Clougherty Home Scene of Dinner Thursday Evening

Other families live in a whirl too. Mrs. J. E. Clougherty of 132 East Montecito gave a dinner Thursday night at the family home for the bridesmaids who will attend at her daughter, Elizabeth's, wedding which has been set for early October when Miss Elizabeth will become the bride of Donald Fairbanks. Owning to some of the young ladies living out of town, last Thursday was the one and only evening available for the entire group between now and October.

The guests included Mary Gertrude Skidmore of Flagstaff, Ariz. (a cousin of the bride-elect), Pauline Compton of Baldwin Park, Carolyn and Jean Brooks and Joan Clougherty.

YUM-YUM

The appetites of 100 hungry Sierra Madreans were appeased by the VFW Auxiliary, when they served a spaghetti and homemade apple pie dinner at the Old Adobe, Wednesday evening. Couples later danced to recorded music.

The Auxiliary's first attempt at entertaining on so large a scale was a huge success, reported Mrs. Barbara Heasley, Auxiliary president.

amended ordinance. He made no statement on this subject at the Council meeting.

Section 3 of the proposed ordinance justifies emergency enactment as follows:

"the existing regulations and ordinances with respect to front yard requirements—have been found to create confusion and as a result, property values and the economical (sic) prosperity of the city are being seriously impaired, and the public peace, health, and safety of the City of Sierra Madre and the citizens thereof are being endangered. The City Council therefore finds that an emergency exists—"

Shippey-Martinez Marriage Thursday Episcopal Church

Doors of the Church of the Ascension, Episcopal, were open to a select group of family and close friends at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, when nuptial vows were recited by Osefa Olegaria Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Martinez of Beverly Hills and Frank Robert Shippey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shippey, 299 Toyon Road. Rev. Harley G. Smith officiated.

An aqua taffeta afternoon dress, worn by the bride was complemented by an arm bouquet of red roses and gardenias. The bridegroom's home here was the scene of a reception afterwards.

The newlyweds met while the groom was with the Forest Service at Red Box and the bride was visiting her sister, Mrs. Harold Strange, wife of the Chief Ranger at Red Box.

Mrs. Shippey attended UCLA and was an Alpha Omicron Pi. Mr. Shippey served overseas during the war, as an Army sergeant. They will make their home in Del Mar.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

TOMATOES—ripe and rosy red—are in abundance now. And they've never been better. Neither have those tender, young ears of corn been sweeter to the taste. Of course there are countless ways to serve tomatoes, just as there are hundreds of corn recipes, but Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods consumer kitchens comes up with the suggestion that you team for she's named her dish Corny Tomatoes.

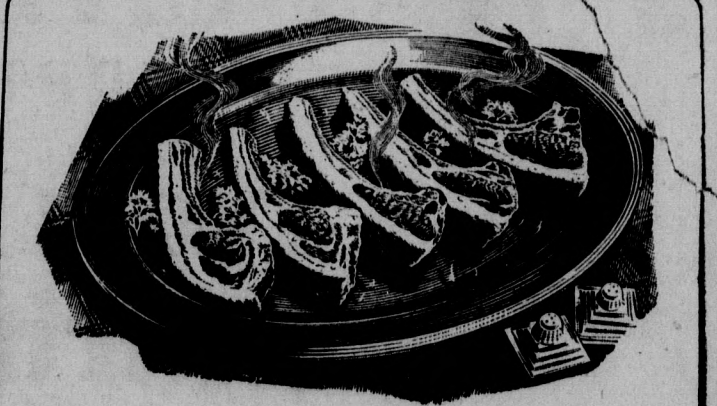

Corny Tomatoes
6 firm ripe tomatoes
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons oil, chopped
3 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced
1 cup corn, cooked
1 egg slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Wash tomatoes, cut slice from top of each, scoop out center pulp and reserve. Sprinkle tomato shell with salt and pepper. Saute onion and green pepper in vitaminized margarine. Add mushrooms, corn, egg and seasonings to sauteed mixture; mix well. Fill tomatoes. Place in greased baking dish and cover the bottom of dish with hot water. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°F.) 15-20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Advertise in your home newspaper, it pays big dividends.

You're paying MORE for chops nowadays...but LESS for the gas to broil them!

GAS COSTS YOU EVEN LESS NOW THAN IN 1939!

No matter how you economize, your meat bill, too, is considerably larger than before the war. One consolation, however, is that you can broil chops, braise beef or bake ham with little concern for the cost of the gas. While other prices went up and up, natural gas stayed down. It actually costs you less now than in 1939!

Our own expenses have soared like most of yours. New extensions, for example, cost us 2 1/2 to 3 times more than just a few years back. But we have met rising prices and still kept gas your household bargain by 1) serving more gas to more people...60% more customers than ten years ago...and 2) "keeping on our toes"...constantly striving to find new ways to achieve greater efficiency and more economical operation.

NOW MORE THAN EVER
YOUR HOUSEHOLD BARGAIN IS GAS

As your cost of living goes up, gas becomes a bigger bargain than ever. Its truly low price...and superior performance in modern automatic appliances...is why gas is first choice in Southern California for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

Rattlesnakes Menace Local Dwellers

Hot weather has brought Sierra Madre more than its share of rattlesnakes this year and townspeople must be doubly on guard.

The belief that rattlers always coil and rattle before striking was proven a fallacy by "Duchess," a German Shepherd, who stands as mute testimony to this common misconception. Her owners, the Hupfelds of Circle C Ranch, report she has miraculously recovered after being bitten near the mouth last Saturday afternoon.

Walter Hupfeld first spotted the snake on the drive and before he could stop the approach of the curious Duchess, the snake struck without warning. Charlie Sheldon, who was with them, smashed the reptile with a rock.

Using a suction gun, Walter removed the poison and rushed the dog to a veterinarian. Duchess' badly swollen head is at last back to normal.

String Ensemble Premieres Works of Six Contemporary American Composers

By TOMMY ANN MILLER

Dr. Roy Harris, composer-in-residence at Colorado College, conducts the College String Symphonía program of a half-dozen new works, including one of his own.

Ezio Pinza, celebrated basso, sings arias by Handel and Halevy as well as Tosti's "Serenata" on the Telephone Hour. Eugene Ormandy and the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra's handling of an all-Brahms program, Sunday, should prove excellent.

Hotel Directory For Dogs

Traveling with a dog should be a great deal easier in the future for vacationists and other wayfarers who find it necessary to take the family pet along on their journeys.

A nationwide survey recently of hotels and motor courts to determine those which accept guests with dogs has been compiled and the findings published in the form of a directory available to dog owners.

Local dog owners may call Joe Scalzo at the Pet Shop and he will have the directories or be able to tell travelers where they may be procured.

Why do some folks have enough memory to recall to the tiniest detail what has happened to them, and not have enough to remember how many times they've told it to the same person?

Remember Him?

Reviving an old American custom, Milton H. Van Noland, 21-year-old veteran, perches atop a 50-foot flagpole in San Francisco, and vows he'll stay there until he breaks the 49-day world record for flagpole sitters. A local used car dealer is betting him $1000 he won't.

MAKE YOUR STAIRWAYS SAFE!
Are stairways clear of boxes, mops, brooms, tools, etc.?

DO YOU KNOW WHAT THESE SYMBOLS STAND FOR?

Rexall

• This is the totem of an Indian clan. Other clans have their own, and for each clan the totem identifies the family home and property.
In a similar way, the familiar Rexall sign identifies 10,000 independent drug stores which are home to the Rexall family of fine pharmaceuticals. The Rexall sign is your assurance of pure, potent drugs—compounded with sure pharmaceutical skill—laboratory tested under the Rexall system of control.

Scientist Solves Mystery

Why thousands of bristly globular objects were found on the shores of Little Borax Lake in Lake County appeared to be an unsolvable mystery until samples were taken to Professor Edward O. Essig of the University of California College of Agriculture at Berkeley.

The strange looking gray spheres, varying in size from a baseball to a small watermelon, could not be explained by natives of the area who claimed that no one had ever seen them before, not even the Indians or the earliest white inhabitants.

A resident of Nice, Lake County, carried some of the mysterious objects to the University where a microscopic examination was made. It was found that they were composed of the hair-like fibers of ditch grass, so tightly and intricately enmeshed that they formed an almost indestructible whole. A close examination of the lake shore revealed a great thick mass of small particles of ditch grass imbedded in decaying material. Dr. Essig believes that the spheres were formed by wave action that rolled loose plant particles into tight round form. A violent windstorm may have swept them on to the shore where they had puzzled the inhabitants of the area.

ANNUAL CHECK-UP CONSIDERED A 'MUST'

Much serious illness could be averted and many tragedies prevented if every adult formed the habit of having an annual physical examination, including a chest x-ray. A loss of weight and that "tired feeling," for example, would not send some people to the doctor for a check-up, yet these symptoms could be signs of early tuberculosis. It is estimated that there are approximately half a million people in the United States today suffering from active tuberculosis. Yet only about half of them are known to health authorities and are receiving the proper care.

Queen of Heights

Chief Tony White Cloud, who stands five feet, three inches, almost needed a stepladder to scale the dizzy heights and crown Marie Van Lueren, 22, of Chicago, as "Queen of Height, 1948." Miss Van Lueren, who is six feet, one-and-a-half inches tall, won the title in the second annual Tall Clubs National Convention in Chicago.

Coffee Maker Most Used Utensil

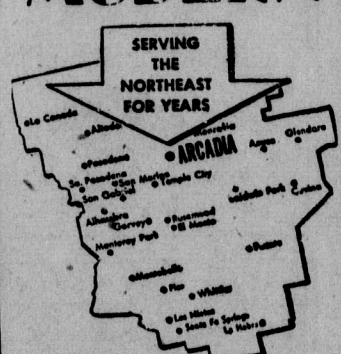

The coffeemaker is the kitchen utensil most often used by the American housewife. It was found in a survey conducted in a cooperative project in three states, California, Nebraska and Rhode Island. The survey for California was directed by Dr. Jean Warren, Assistant Professor of Home Economics at the University of California College of Agriculture.

The results which were basically the same in the Western, Eastern and Midwestern states ought to be important not only to manufacturers and retailers, but also to the homemakers themselves.

Next to the coffeemaker, housewives make most frequent use of the frying pan, 10 to 12 inches in diameter. A smaller, 8-inch frying pan came in tenth. On the other hand, the 1 quart saucepan made third place, while bigger saucepans lagged behind, in sixth and eighth position. The pancake turner was fourth and the breadknife fifth. The lowly dishpan ranked seventh, the medium sized egg-beater ninth.

Far back among the also-rans were the baking utensils, which may be an indication that farm homemakers do less baking than formerly. Dr. Warren and her group also made the interesting discovery that family size had no influence on the kind, number and size of utensils.

IMPORTANT NOTICE U. S. Government Inspected HORSE MEAT

It has always been our policy to handle quality pet food products which are entirely satisfactory to our customers. In line with this policy, we have decided to sell only U. S. Government Inspected horse meat, beginning August 16, 1948.

With only a slight increase in cost, we are going to furnish our customers the best horse meat obtainable, processed under the strict supervision of a U. S. Government meat inspector, which means that the meat is from healthy animals and produced in a sanitary plant which produces meat for human use.

You, as a customer, can be assured that this meat is without contamination, thoroughly refrigerated and delivered fresh daily from the packing house.

With the warm weather upon us and with the enactment of new health laws, we have given considerable thought to this change and after investigation and visits to the packing house, we are hopeful that our many customers will agree with our decision to handle this top-grade inspected horse meat.
